

Prof. Assoc. Dr. Indrit Baholli

Dean, Faculty of Information Technology, Tirana
Business University College, TBU

Prof.Assoc.Dr. Indrit Baholli is currently the Dean of the Faculty of Information Technology at the University College "Tirana Business University" (TBU). He has a 27-year work experience, during which he held high positions in some of the important public and private institutions in the country.

In terms of experience in the academic field, Prof. Assoc. Dr. Indrit Baholli, has worked for about a decade as an internal lecturer at the University of Tirana, Faculty of Economics, for 6 years as the head of the Department of Informatics, Mathematics and Statistics at the European University of Tirana (UET), from November 2018 to January 2023 he held the position of the Dean of the Faculty of Information Technology and Innovation at "Luarasi" University, and from January 2023 to August 2023 covered the position of Dean of the Faculty of Economics at "Luarasi" University.

Prof.Assoc.Dr. Indrit Baholli has completed continuous studies and qualifications at home and abroad. He has also contributed to scientific research mainly in the field of Information Systems by publishing important articles in well-known magazines inside and outside Albania.

Throughout his academic and non-academic career, his work has been focused and continues to focus on the fields of Information Systems, Innovations, and the Electricity and Renewable Energy market. For around 7 years, he has worked in important public and private sectors, mainly in the Electricity market, covering senior management positions.