

Endri Madhi, MSc

Lecturer,
Faculty of Business and Law, Tirana
Business University College, TBU

Endri Madhi, MSc, is an outstanding example of a career built with dedication and professionalism in the field of accounting and auditing.

He holds a Master of Science in Accounting and Auditing and has over 12 years of professional experience in the private sector, contributing across various industries such as consulting and financial services, banking, investment management, and the mining industry.

Throughout his career, Endri has developed a 10-year academic background as a lecturer in accounting and auditing at both public and private universities. In recent years, he has held several managerial positions within Balfin Group, where he currently serves as Head of the Internal Audit Department.

He holds prestigious professional certifications including FCCA, Statutory Auditor (AL), and Certified Accountant (KM), and now joins the academic staff of Tirana Business University College, as part of the Department of Business and Finance.

With his extensive expertise, Endri aims to inspire students and help them bridge theory with real-world business and finance practice.
